KnowledgeAgent

KnowledgeAgent is a leading company in the area of Strategic Research & Analysis with global activities.

As a team, we support organizations with customized knowledge, expertise and technology. We research, structure and analyze information to enable our customers to operate successfully in the market. These customers include leading international strategy consultancies and global enterprises from a wide range of industries.

A well-coordinated and qualified team is the key to our long-term success. We offer our employees long-term perspectives and individual development opportunities.

To expand our team, we are looking for you to join us as

Research Analyst (m/f/d) – Life Sciences & Healthcare at our location in Mannheim with the possibility for remote work of up to 60%.

Your tasks

- As part of our analyst team "Life Sciences & Healthcare", you deliver best-in-class results for research requests and support project teams, specialists and managers of our international customers in answering strategic questions.
- You provide information and analysis on market, competition, sales strategy and product portfolio, while focusing your research mainly on life sciences & healthcare topics.
- You generate insights mainly based on scientific articles, professional databases, internet research, company publications, official statistics and studies, using a broad range of research strategies.
- You prepare your findings in a structured and professional manner and provide our customers with information tailored to their needs.

Your profile

- Degree in economics, natural sciences or related subject
- Ability to understand business and economic relations
- Ideally, first professional or internship experience in the pharmaceutical industry
- Affinity for medical/health-related topics
- You enjoy regularly dealing with new topics and reading into new issues within a short period of time
- Advanced analytical and conceptual skills
- Quick comprehension and ability to meet stringent quality standards
- Confident handling of MS Office programs
- Fluency in written and spoken German and English

You are a perfect match for us, if you are a smart, committed and enthusiastic person, who is ready to take on new challenges every day and has an analytical mindset.

What we offer

It is essential to us to create a working environment, in which our employees feel comfortable and can grow professionally and personally. On top of exciting individual development and training opportunities, you can expect numerous other benefits, such as:

- A secure job with development prospects in a continuously growing company
- Hybrid working (up to 60% remote)
- Attractive offices with modern and ergonomic IT and work equipment
- Mentoring and open feedback culture
- A great working environment in a cooperative and open-minded team
- After work activities and team events

Your contact

You want an exciting and varied challenge with a perspective for growth? Then become part of our team!

We are looking forward to receiving your application, including your salary expectations and possible start date. | Stéphanie Weber – jobs@knowledgeagent.com
