

BECOME PART OF OUR TEAM!

 KnowledgeAgent

KnowledgeAgent is a leading company in the area of Strategic Research & Analysis with global activities.

As a team, we support organizations with customized knowledge, expertise and technology. We research, structure and analyze information to enable our customers to operate successfully in the market. These customers include leading international strategy consultancies and global enterprises from a wide range of industries. A well-coordinated and qualified team is the key to our long-term success. We offer our employees long-term perspectives and individual development opportunities.

To expand our team, we are looking for dedicated humanities or cultural scientists (m/f/d) to join us as soon as possible as at one of our locations in Mannheim or Bad Dürkheim with the possibility for remote work up to 60%.

Your tasks

- You deliver best-in-class results for research requests and support our customers in answering strategic questions.
- You provide information and analysis on market, competition, product and technologies and deal with the latest trends and their impact on the economy, while focusing your research on one or several industry sectors.
- You generate insights mainly based on professional databases and internet research, company publications, official statistics and expert interviews, using a broad range of research strategies.
- You provide market-relevant data in a structured and professional manner and provide our customers with information tailored to their needs.

Your profile

- University degree, preferably in the field of humanities, cultural studies or related subject
- Quick comprehension and ability to meet stringent quality standards
- Confident handling of MS Office programs
- Fluency in written and spoken German and English

You are a perfect match for us, if you are a smart, committed and enthusiastic person, who is ready to take on new challenges every day and has an analytical mindset. You are motivated to familiarize yourself with economic issues and you are not afraid of numbers? Then become part of our team!

What we offer

It is essential to us to create a working environment, in which our employees feel comfortable and can grow professionally and personally. On top of exciting individual development and training opportunities, you can expect numerous other benefits, such as:

- A secure job with development prospects in a continuously growing company
- Hybrid working (up to 60% remote)
- Attractive offices with modern and ergonomic IT and work equipment
- Mentoring and open feedback culture
- A great working environment in a cooperative and open-minded team
- After work and team events

Your contact

We are looking forward to receiving your application, including your salary expectations, possible start date and preferred location. | Stéphanie Weber – jobs@knowledgeagent.com
